Mom & Jim, AIR MAIL

Hi again. I mailed you a postcard this morning but I got your letter today Mom, and I'm dying of curiosity. You said Becky loves Jason and the stuffed cats. Who is Jason? It's driving me crazy. I received my absentee ballot today also - its ready to be mailed with this card.

You asked about the weather - its about 50° days, and usually grey. It gets dark early too. I'm warm enough, but sick of my clothes. I dont need my wool L.I. sweater. It would take up to much room in coming home. I hope Jim can take some of my lighter weight stuff for me when he gets back home.

as pretty as home. But flowers are still blooming also. Its a contradiction of me. I haven't looked for the glass yet, but do know where 2 or 3 crystal/china stores are - I will look in the next few weeks.
